Cold-water chess

This news is about chess. There is a special version of chess. It is cold-water chess. You play chess, and you sit in very cold water.

The game is not new. Some people played in Soviet times. Now, two Russian men play it again.

The game can look a little crazy. But the men like it. They say that cold water helps you concentrate. Playing chess helps you stay in the water for longer.

Children's social app

In 2017, the app Play:Date started. Thanks to it, parents can find friends for their children who are up to 12 years old. Parents can make online profiles for their children write many details about them. For example, some details are language, hobbies, and other activities. Then children with similar hobbies can meet and play together. Users can share stories and connect to people who they wouldn't normally meet. The app makes money when it offers free vouchers on things and services from partner companies.
